Title: Programming by Example in Haskell

Description: I will present our framework for live programming by example (PBE) in Haskell. PBE allows users to synthesis programs from example input output pairs. We explore a wide range of problems in PBE including local and global synthesis, example generation, and code repair.